Questions

How does the school work with BDAT?

BDAT are the academy trust we belong to. We work very closely with them and they know our school inside and out. We work with Reem Briggs who is our trust link but they also have a central team who support us with school improvement, safeguarding, health and safety and finance. They also run training and courses which our teachers and other staff access. This means that we are always working with best practise guidance and our policies are compliant.
